

December 2011

Dear Members:

Webster defines a society as "a voluntary association of individuals formed for common ends." What a great definition. We are a group with common interests and desires. Sure, ISCPA offers continuing education and member benefits, but it also provides much more! It cohesively advocates for the profession, works to promote it, and ensures the CPA credential will continue to be respected. This group can take us places that we could not go on our own, and help us to do things few of us could accomplish individually.

I want to especially encourage those who may only have thought about volunteering in the past to volunteer. There is no better time to be active in our Society than today. Many professional challenges are knocking on our door. You can help the profession, and our Society, deal with them and prosper next year. After more than 15 years of active involvement with the Society, not only do I have the satisfaction of knowing that I have made positive contributions to my profession, but I also know being active has kept me up-to-date on issues that affect my clients. On a personal level, this involvement has also given me many lifelong friends.

Please take a moment and review the committee descriptions in this mailing. Choose your top three and return the form by January 9, 2012. Then, get ready for an experience that will truly change your life!

Sincerely,

Janice S. Towne CPA, CFP™
Vice President

2012-2013 Committee Service Preferences

After reviewing the following list of committees and the enclosed information sheet, I prefer to serve on the indicated committees from May 1, 2012, through April 30, 2013.

- Career Awareness
- Continuing Professional Education
- Exempt Organizations
- Family & Workplace Issues
- Financial Literacy
- Govt'l Auditing & Accounting
- Insurance Industry
- Legislation
- Membership & Member Benefits
- Peer Review
- Practice Review
- Public & Professional Relations
- Social Technology Task Force
- Taxation

1st choice: _____ 2nd choice: _____

3rd choice: _____

Or, I am currently serving on the following committee and wish to be reappointed:

Name: _____ E-mail: _____

Firm/business _____ City _____

Complete and return this form to the ISCPA office by Monday, January 9, 2012. Thanks.